

Cultural Competence for Classified Professionals

A Professional Development Certificate Series for Classified Staff:

A New Era in Education

Facilitated by SDSU faculty member, Dr. Tanis Starck

“To provide equitable education and services to students, educators must assess their own culture and learn to manage the dynamics of difference.”

See back for additional details

C U Y A M A C A
· C O L L E G E ·

Certificate in Cultural Awareness

Our country and workplace are becoming increasingly more diverse. Additionally, interactions among individuals and groups from various backgrounds are more commonplace than ever. In a global society, successful working relationships and effective communication are essential for productive interactions and outcomes.

During this series, we will discover where our individual communication styles and feelings surrounding cultural differences derive, and explore how they affect our daily interactions with people.

This series will be broken up into several sessions:
The first session will be held on February 28, 2017 from 9am-11am. Additional sessions, at the same time, will be held on the following days:
March 14, April 18, May 23, June 27, July 25.

Be sure to RSVP to the email when you receive it.

All materials will be provided.

Printed Certificates will be issued at the completion of the training. Opportunity drawing entry for all session participants!

